

MOTHERS' DAY OBSERVED WITH TENDER TRIBUTE

At Religious Services Mother is Recognized as Great Saving Influence

Honoluluans paid a tender tribute to their mothers yesterday by joining with churches and organizations in a special observance of Mothers' Day, an occasion now celebrated throughout the United States. Men and women alike wore white flowers, the emblem of the day, and although the occasion was not a holiday, the day had been set aside by the president for celebration.

The members of the Central Union Sunday school heard an interesting talk by R. E. Lambert on the subject, "Home and Mother," while observation of the day was made at both services at the big church. David Cary Peters conducted a special service for the members of his congregation, a feature of which was the singing of hymns popular with the mothers of a generation ago. Special services also were held in Kaunakapili church and at the Kakaako Mission.

Rev. L. L. Loofbrow, pastor of the Methodist church, spoke to his congregation from the text, "As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you." He said, in part: "Men's peculiar virtues are strength, power, wisdom. Women's are affection, sympathy, love, constancy. If we wish to know the tenderness of God, we might take this virtue as it is found at its highest in motherhood, raise it from its miniature here to its highest power, that we may know God the better."

In observance of Mother's Day 32 men of the Y. M. C. A. dormitory breakfasted in Cooke hall and, while there was no special program, a number of old songs were played during the meal. During the day the association dispensed more than 300 buttonhole bouquets of sweet peas to men passing in and out of the building.

Mrs. Walter F. Frear talked to the men at Oahu prison, and told them that a good father helps to make a good mother. A special musical program was rendered and each man was presented with a white chrysanthemum. David Cary Peters and S. W. Robley conducted the service.

Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. a street meeting was held at Hotel and Nuuanu streets last night. The gathering was addressed by S. W. Robley on a subject appropriate to Mothers' Day, and special music was rendered. A. E. Larimer played the organ.

PRINTERS' INK SHOWS PAGE ADVERTISEMENT FROM STAR-BULLETIN

Printers' Ink in its issue of April 20 publishes a reproduction in miniature of the page advertisement published some time since in the Star-Bulletin which announced the convention of the A. A. C. W. in Philadelphia, and in connection therewith and in commenting on the publicity the convention is having says: "Perhaps the most interesting part of the announcement lies in the fact that this space was purchased and the copy written by Cyrus H. K. Curtis while he was on a pleasure trip to the Hawaiian Islands."

The Star-Bulletin is having published a page advertisement in the Associated Advertiser and is pioneering in this field of publicity for Honolulu and the Islands.

The street railway in a German city provides all its cars with telephones, enabling their crews to communicate with headquarters by connecting the instruments with wires that run beside the tracks.

Silver salts, used for sensitizing films in photography, and lost forever in the process, are accounting for about 15,000,000 ounces of silver a year on the side of the motion picture industry alone.

What One of Our Little Friends Says:

Honolulu, T. H., May 13, 1916.

Editor Star-Bulletin,

Dear Sir: I went to the Liberty Theater Friday afternoon. What I liked the best was the Fox and the man that hid in the hay and the waterfalls and the baseball team; also the others were pretty.

I thank you for your kindness.

Very truly yours,

BEATRICE McLELLAN.

Beatrice, you're entirely welcome; and if you did enjoy the program the Star-Bulletin prepared for you and your schoolmates last Friday, you couldn't have experienced more pleasure than we did in receiving your thoughtful little letter.

AUTO SALE A BIG SUCCESS

Saturday's clearance sale in used and rebuilt automobiles was a decided success, according to advices received from von Hamm-Young Company. The sale was such a distinct success that this firm will make it a regular feature in marketing its used cars.

This novel method of holding a one-day sale of used cars brought the automobile-interested public and the exceptional bargains offered did the rest. There are more of these auto bargain days to come, as room must be made for the shipments of new machines which are constantly arriving.

CHANG CHAU CELEBRATES ACQUITTAL WITH BIG LUAU

Good luck will follow Chang Chau, Lelohua storekeeper, all the rest of his days, for he has killed a pig and called his friends in to partake thereof. That is, he has killed a pig just as good fortune overtook him and, according to an old Hawaiian superstition, when a man kills a pig in the presence of the fickle goddess she will follow him for all time, presumably in the belief that such a generous man is the one who most deserves her favors.

Chang was acquitted last week in the United States district court on a charge of receiving stolen goods. He was alleged to have bought oats and other grain from soldiers who had stolen it from the military posts.

CELEBRATED VOCALISTS TO OFFER RARE TREAT

Punahou people will have an opportunity tomorrow night to hear two excellent vocalists, Philip C. Hall of Honolulu and Professor J. S. Wanell of San Francisco, who will sing in Bishop hall. Mr. Hall's popular tenor voice is well known in Honolulu and needs no introduction. Professor Wanell is a prominent vocal instructor in California. He is a graduate of the Madrid (Spain) Conservatory of Music and has a bass voice of unusual power and resonance. One of the latter's selections tomorrow night is "Il Lacrima Spirito." Mr. Hall will render the "Vesti La Giubba." Miss Maude Seyde and Miss Edith Gatfield will accompany.

Pay your taxes today; after the 15th instant 10 per cent will be added. Take your tax bill with you. Payment to be made in U. S. gold coin or certified check. Make separate checks for Honolulu and country districts.—Adv.

PARADISE LOST AND REGAINED LECTURE TOPIC

"Paradise Lost and Regained" was the subject of the lecture last night at the "Peace Palace." Evangelist McCord said in part:

"The dying thief said to Jesus: 'Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.' Jesus replied: 'Verily I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in paradise.' Luke 23:42, 43.

"This request shows true repentance and genuine faith; and drew from Christ that gracious promise which has comforted God's people from that day until now. The promise implies that Paradise will be given to every repentant sinner."

"Paradise was lost because Adam and Eve transgressed the same commandment that nailed the thief to the cross. The tree of knowledge belonged to God and not to Adam and Eve. When they ate of the forbidden fruit they took of that which did not belong to them and transgressed the commandment, 'Thou shalt not steal.'"

"If commandment breaking cost Adam and Eve the earthly paradise, is it reasonable to suppose that commandment breakers will enter into the heavenly paradise?"

"When we are 'born again' the law of God is written in the heart and mind and we become new creatures in Christ Jesus. We therefore observe the Sabbath, not in order to be converted, but because we are converted."

"The earthly paradise was lost through commandment breaking, and commandment keepers only will have the right to enter the paradise above."

"Blessed are they that do his commandments that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city. Rev. 22:14."

There will be no meeting at the "Peace Palace" tonight, but the subject for tomorrow night will be, "The Man of Sin, or the Crime of the Centuries."

MID-PACIFIC FOR JUNE IS FULL OF GOOD THINGS

The Mid-Pacific Magazine for June is out today, and is full of good things. The Log of the Snark by Mrs. Jack London is continued, and there is a thrilling account of the narrow escape of Mr. and Mrs. London from destruction by the volcano of Tana in the New Hebrides.

This number ends the eleventh volume of the magazine, and with the new volume it begins its work of boosting for the Pan-Pacific Exposition in Honolulu during 1917-1918, something for which the Mid-Pacific Magazine has been agitating ever since the publication of its first number about six years ago.

The following is the table of contents for the June number:

- Our Art Gallery.
- Tana and Its Volcano—By Charmian Kittredge London.
- Woman's Opportunity in Australia—By John West.
- Waintha to Waimea, Kauai—By Louis H. Stolz.
- From East to West in New Zealand—By G. Fenwick.
- The Expansion of Sydney—B. C. H. Bertie.
- A Goddess and Her Volcanoes—By Sidney Powers.
- Pioneers of the Pacific—By Wm. T. Brigham, A. M., Sc. D.
- Approaching Java—From the Editor's Diary.
- Vancouver As It Is—By Stephen Wentworth.
- Election of a Hawaiian King—Recollections of the Hon. Sanford B. Dole.
- Here and There in Japan—By E. J. Fitzpatrick.
- Over the Trails of the Mountain Province—By Arthur S. Ward.
- Some Plants of Hawaii—By Prof. J. F. Rock.
- Round About Hongkong—By Horace P. Clark.
- Sun Dimpled San Diego—By W. M. Irwin.
- Editorial Comment.
- Index to Volume XI.
- Encyclopedia of Hawaii and the Pacific.
